

SCOPE OF WORK FEEDBACK WORKBOOK

Danforth Study
Community Meeting #1

Thursday, November 7, 2019

HI! THANKS FOR GIVING US FEEDBACK ON THE SCOPE OF WORK

At the beginning of a project like the Danforth Avenue Complete Street and Planning Study (Danforth Study, for short), it's typical to create Terms of Reference. The Terms of Reference is a document that outlines what the purpose of the project is, as well as key activities and plans.

TODAY, WE'RE GOING TO FOCUS ON THE SCOPE OF WORK FOR THE DANFORTH STUDY.

The Scope of Work is an important part of the Terms of Reference. The Scope of Work clearly defines the key activities throughout the project.

It helps us understand what's part of the project and what isn't part of it.

Because the Scope of Work explains our plan for the project, we want to hear your feedback on it. What do you like about the Scope of Work? What needs improvement? What questions and new ideas do you have for the Scope of Work?

Follow these two steps to provide your feedback on the Scope of Work for the Danforth Study:

STEP 1

Read about the Scope of Work on the next pages.

STEP 2

Fill out a feedback grid on a table. You can work on your own or with a small group.

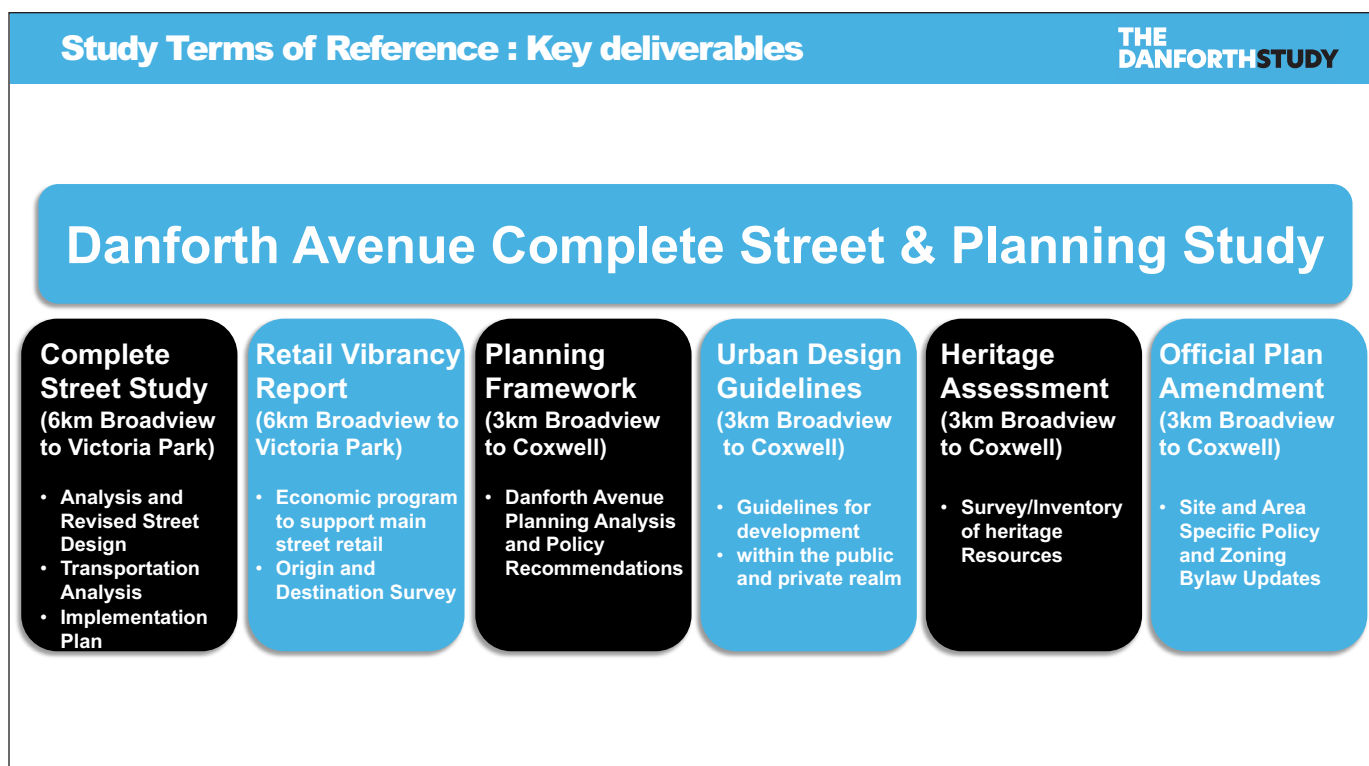

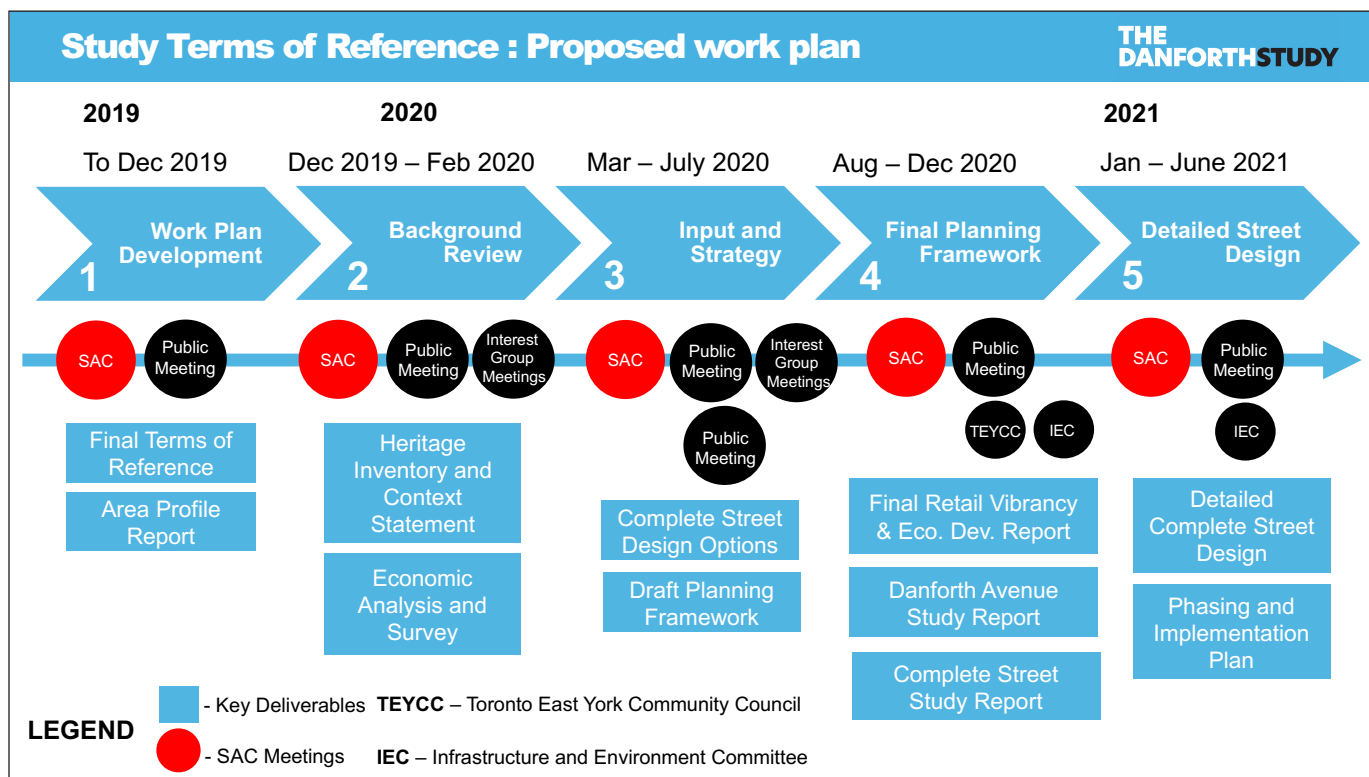

- > What do you like about the Scope of Work?
- > What could be improved about the Scope of Work?
- > What questions do you have about the Scope of Work?
- > What new ideas do you have about the Scope of Work?

THANK YOU

For your time and effort providing feedback at the start of this project! Your input will be used to refine the Scope of Work, and create a strong foundation for this exciting project.

STEP 2

FEEDBACK GRID

Find a Feedback Grid on one of the tables. Work by yourself or in a small group to add your feedback.

Think about these questions:

- > What do you like about the Scope of Work?
- > What could be improved about the Scope of Work?
- > What questions do you have about the Scope of Work?
- > What new ideas do you have about the Scope of Work?

THANK YOU!

We really appreciate your time and effort giving us feedback on the Scope of Work for the Danforth Study.

Is there anything else we should know as we start this project?
