

The City of Toronto holds public consultations as one way to engage residents in the life of their city. We invite you to get involved.

Deep Lake Water Cooling Supply Expansion

Class Environmental Assessment Study - Notice of Public Consultation Event

Please join the City of Toronto (City) and Enwave Energy Corporation (Enwave) at an online public consultation event to learn about the recommended solution that will be considered to expand the existing Deep Lake Water Cooling (DLWC) supply.

This public consultation event will be held online based on the expert advice of the Toronto Medical Officer of Health to practice physical distancing. You will have an opportunity to view information online to learn more about the recommended solution, ask questions, and share your comments.

Date: Thursday, May 21, 2020

Time: 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

For more information on the study, and for further details on the online consultation event:

During the event, the project team will be available to answer questions and receive feedback. After the event, the presentation material and comment sheet will continue to be available until June 4, 2020 for comments.

Background

The City and Enwave as co-proponents, are carrying out a Municipal Class Environmental Assessment (MCEA) to examine expanding the existing DLWC supply.

This assessment is being planned in accordance with the MCEA Schedule "B" projects approved under the Environmental Assessment Act. The project team has defined the problem and opportunity, alternative solutions, reviewed potential impacts, evaluated the alternatives, and identified the recommended solution.

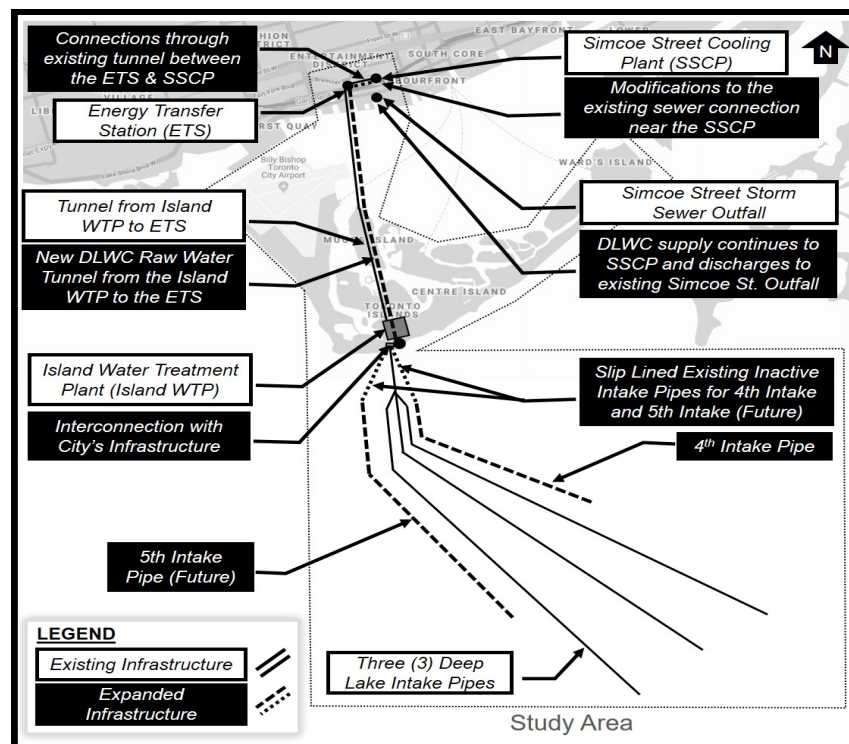

Issue Date: May 7, 2020
