Policies prohibiting the consumption of food or drink by members of the public in non-food and drink establishments (where masks are required), including retail stores and malls.

STRONG RECOMMENDATIONS:

- Cancel or hold virtually as much as possible all in-person activities that are discretionary.
- Limit all social gatherings. Restrict close contacts to your household and essential support people (for example: personal support worker) that are required for the maintenance of physical and mental health. For individuals who live alone, close contact with one other household is permitted. If possible, this other household only should be exclusive to that individual living alone.
- Stop visits to private homes, unless for emergency reasons, one-on-one teaching (for example: tutoring), emergency repairs, renovations or construction.
- Limit activities outside the home to essential activities only (for example: work, school, groceries, fitness, and/or healthcare appointments). As much as possible, cancel or hold virtually all inperson discretionary events and activities, including weddings, funerals, and religious services, rites, or ceremonies.
