

Mandate Temporary Higher Absenteeism

Toronto Public Health

COVID-19 has resulted in extremely high numbers of cases in Toronto, and Toronto Public Health (TPH) has temporarily increased its temporary absence rate. This adjustment is necessary due to the many additional cases in the city, as TPH is committed to maintaining its staffing levels.

TPH, therefore, advises that any temporary absences due to COVID-19 be considered for leave, as TPH is required to maintain staffing levels. This is especially important for school staff, bus drivers, and other essential workers.
