TRANSLATING THE CITY

Artistic Director: Laura Nanni

This year's theme explores the many languages—spoken, written, visual, gestural, sonic, and emotional—that shape how urban life is understood and expressed. Through art, it invites us to translate the complexities of cities, reconsider our roles within them, and reimagine the possibilities they hold.

FROM HERE, THERE, EVERYWHERE CURATED BY RENATA AZEVEDO MOREIRA (PROJECTS 1 - 7)

From here, there, everywhere tells a version of any big city's story: being a permanent or temporary home—as layered as the many cultures shaping the city, transforming familiar South Etbicoke spaces into places of hope, connection and resistance.

NORTH YORK | WILLOWDALE WEST

COLLECTIVE COMPOSITION CURATED BY LAURA NANNI (PROJECTS 20 - 27)

Collective Composition explores how cities translate and are experienced as dynamic compositions. In North York, immersive and participatory works invite reflection on our shared role in shaping urban life—revealing the city as a living fabric woven through shared care, creativity, and responsibility, where everyone plays a part.

DOWNTOWN CITY CENTRE

POETIC JUSTICE CURATED BY CHARLENE K. LAU (PROJECTS 10 - 18)

As a continual site for reconciliation and memory, the city is always in translation and its publics mixing. Downtown, Poetic Justice brings together the multilayered histories of Toronto as Indigenous homelands and as a city of global arrival and departure to consider concepts of land, treaties, justice and reform.
