35 Bellevue Ave Work Notice: UPDATE

Concrete Pour on Tuesday, November 25th, 2025, Rescheduled to Wednesday, November 26th

Due to heavy rain, the concrete pour scheduled for Tuesday, November 25th, is now expected to be completed on Wednesday, November 26th.

Crews will be pouring a large concrete slab at the Bellevue site starting at 7:00 am. Concrete must be poured and finished in one continuous operation. Once the pour begins, the team must stay with it until the slab is fully set and finished. Stopping part-way isn't an option without risking defects that would require starting again which would be costly and disruptive.

Because the setting time depends on temperature and weather, unfortunately we cannot predict the exact end time. Crews may need to work past 7:00 pm and possibly later into the evening to complete the slab in one go.

What to expect on Wednesday, November 26th, weather permitting:

- Concrete trucks arriving throughout the day
- Finishing work once the concrete begins to set
- Four power trowels used for finishing
 - These machines look and sound similar to a lawn mower
- Diesel Light Tower (LED)

We understand extended hours are never ideal and we appreciate your patience while this essential piece of work is completed.
